Take Aim Small-Group Format Goldenrod Level Sample

The lesson included in this sample is "Bloop," from the Mysteries Unit in the Goldenrod level. Each Take Aim level teaches 288 carefully chosen target words. A Take Aim level includes 12 units, and each unit has four lessons. The Goldenrod level is designed for students who read at a fourth grade level or higher. For more information about Take Aim, visit the Read Naturally website at www.readnaturally.com.

Teaching Methods

Take Aim promotes vocabulary development through activities that are grounded in research-based principles. Students gain familiarity and confidence with the target words through a combination of the following teaching methods:

Explicit instruction of target words. Take Aim explicitly teaches each target word in a variety of formats, including a definition embedded in text, a definition that includes the word's part of speech and a clarifying sentence, and questions and activities that deepen understanding.

Instruction of the target words in context. In Take Aim, students read high-interest, nonfiction stories multiple times along with a narrator, with you, or with another student to learn the story and unfamiliar words. As students read, they encounter their definitions in the context of the story.

Student-friendly definitions. All target words in Take Aim include definitions and sample sentences written in clear, simple language that is easy for students to understand.

Multiple exposures to target words. In Take Aim, students encounter each target word several times. They encounter the words when they read the story, the definitions, and the clarifying sentences. They answer questions that use the target words and complete activities related to the words. Also, at least half of the target words are reused in two or more stories in each unit.

Multiple contexts for target words. Through the stories and activities in Take Aim, students see instances of each target word in multiple contexts. These multiple contexts support the rich instruction that builds familiarity and confidence and benefits comprehension.

Semantic mapping. Each unit in Take Aim includes word mapping activities that require students to connect the target words to other words, parts of speech, synonyms, antonyms, or personal experience.

Learning Strategies

To help students develop skills in independently determining word meanings, Take Aim also incorporates these three research-based learning strategies:

Using context clues. The teacher or the audio-supported mini-lessons teach students how to use context clues to figure out the meaning of a word.

Analyzing word parts. The teacher or the audio-supported lessons and activities guide students through using word parts to infer the meanings of new words.

Using a dictionary or glossary. An illustrated, audio-supported glossary written in student-friendly language includes the target words plus additional challenging words that appear in the unit's stories. Students learn to reference this glossary each time they encounter an unknown word.

Unit Steps List

Students follow the steps listed below to work through each Take Aim unit. Use the step descriptions below to walk through the lesson included, "Bloop," or simply review the curriculum materials.

Step I. Complete Lessons I-4

- A. Read the target words. Students are introduced to the six target words in the lesson. Students complete sections A–F, H, and J with teacher direction or audio support; audio is not included in this sample.
- B. Read the story. Students read along with the teacher, with the audio, or with another student to learn the story and unfamiliar words.
- C. Read to understand target words. During the second read-along, three of the lesson's six target words are defined immediately after they appear in the story.
- D. Use context clues. This mini-lesson points out the context clues around a target word and helps students use these clues to infer the word's meaning.
- E. Read to understand more target words. The remaining target words are defined in context.
- F. Read to master. Students practice without audio support until they can read the story well.
- G. Answer the comprehension questions. Students write answers for sections G–K on their student mini-packets; see a completed version of the page in the Additional Materials section.
- H. Sketch target words. Students sketch a picture that shows what each word means to them.
- I. Clarify target words. Students answer vocabulary questions about the words.
- J. Study word parts/review the target words. In the first lesson, students are taught a word part (prefix, suffix, or root) and answer questions. In lessons 2, 3, and 4, students apply their understanding of the target words by answering questions.
- K. Check the Hink Pink. Students write their answers from the multiple-choice questions in the appropriate spaces to reveal a rhyming word puzzle on the Student Mini-Packet.

Complete enrichment: apply the target words. Students use their knowledge of some of the target words to describe examples or events from their own experiences by responding to four open-ended questions.

Step 2. Study the Target Words

Students study the target words by doing some or all of the following optional activities: use the flashcards, work on the crossword puzzles, study their sketches, and/or use the glossary. Students complete additional activities at the end of each unit.

Step 3. Complete the End-of-Unit Test

After completing all four lessons, the students take the end-of-unit test and record their scores.

In the 1960s, the U.S. Navy⁷⁴ placed microphones deep in the ocean. The microphones were for tracking¹² enemy submarines⁸². But by the 1990s, the enemy had become a friend. The Navy didn't need the microphones anymore, so scientists⁸⁰ started using them.

In 1997, the microphones picked up an intriguing⁸ noise. It had some characteristics⁴⁵ of a whale call⁵⁴. However, microphones 3,000 miles apart tracked it simultaneously¹¹. The noise was huge! Even calls of the largest known whales don't travel that far. Soon, the noise disappeared.

Scientists named the noise Bloop. They wondered where it came from. Was Bloop made by a machine or volcano? No, the sound suggested²⁴ it was made by an animal. Was the animal a giant squid⁸¹? No, squid can't make such big, low noises. Did many animals merge⁹ to make one sound? If so, how and why did they come together? Stories tell of huge monsters beneath the sea. Could these stories have a grain⁶⁶ of truth?

Scientists considered⁷ many ideas. Yet their quest¹⁰ to find the answer yielded²⁵ only more questions.

C. Read to Understand Target Words³

Bloop

In the 1960s, the U.S. Navy placed microphones deep in the ocean. The microphones were for tracking enemy submarines.

Tracking means watching, listening to, or following something to know where it is.

But by the 1990s, the enemy had become a friend. The Navy didn't need the microphones anymore, so scientists started using them.

In 1997, the microphones picked up an intriguing noise. It had some characteristics of a whale call. However, microphones 3,000 miles apart tracked it simultaneously.

Simultaneously means at the same time.

The noise was huge! Even calls of the largest known whales don't travel that far. Soon, the noise disappeared.

Scientists named the noise Bloop. They wondered where it came from. Was Bloop made by a machine or volcano? No, the sound suggested it was made by an animal. Was the animal a giant squid? No, squid can't make such big, low noises. Did many animals merge to make one sound? If so, how and why did they come together? Stories tell of huge monsters beneath the sea. Could these stories have a grain of truth?

Scientists considered many ideas.

Considered means thought carefully about something.

Yet their quest to find the answer yielded only more questions.

D. Use Context Clues⁴

Bloop

In the 1960s, the U.S. Navy placed microphones deep in the ocean. The microphones were for tracking enemy submarines. But by the 1990s, the enemy had become a friend. The Navy didn't need the microphones anymore, so scientists started using them.

In 1997, the microphones picked up an intriguing noise.

Intriguing means interesting or causing curiosity.

It had some characteristics of a whale call. However, microphones 3,000 miles apart tracked it simultaneously. The noise was huge! Even calls of the largest known whales don't travel that far. Soon, the noise disappeared. Scientists named the noise Bloop. They wondered where it came from. Was Bloop made by a machine or volcano? No, the sound suggested it was made by an animal. Was the animal a giant squid? No, squid can't make such big, low noises. Did many animals merge to make one sound?

Merge means to come together or unite.

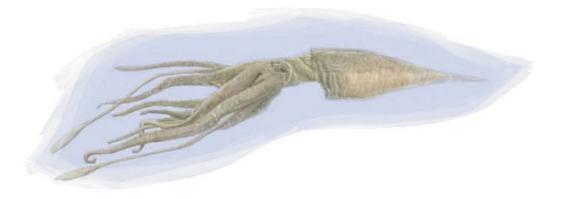

If so, how and why did they come together? Stories tell of huge monsters beneath the sea. Could these stories have a grain of truth?

Scientists considered many ideas. Yet their quest to find the answer yielded only more questions.

A quest is a long and careful search to find or get something.

Additional Materials

To gain a better understanding of how students use Take Aim's glossary and complete the Student Activities Page, review the following materials.

Glossary Page. Included is a sample page from Take Aim's glossary. Notice that each term includes a student-friendly definition, and most glossary terms also include a clarifying sentence. Illustrations are also provided for many of the words. The glossary has audio support, which helps students build confidence with pronunciation and proper use of the words.

Completed Student Activities Page. When a student completes the Student Activities Page, the result will look similar to this page. Notice that all of the answers and sketches are completed. Also, the Hink Pink reveals a rhyming word puzzle, which students use to confirm that they have correctly answered the multiple-choice questions.
